Journal Writing

Hello everyone, it's Ms Rashid- How are you all getting on with your journals? Remember, even if you haven't started a journal yet you can start this week and join in. I will put a portfolio activity up on Class Dojo so that you can show me how you have got on so far.

This week I would like you to prepare a journal entry all about your home. Where do you live? Is it a house or a flat? Who lives there with you? What is your favourite thing about your home? What would you change about your home if you could? You can draw a picture of the outside of your home or draw a floor plan. Whatever you like. I look forward to seeing your ideas on your portfolio. (Your parents can take a photo on their phone and add it to your portfolio) There will be a Dojo Point for everyone that participates.
