Oh, my Goodness! What on earth do you think has happened here? Who or what could have made these gigantic footprints? Where did they come from? Where did they go? What are they going to do next? Why were they on this beach?

Today I would like you to write a story about this image (and send it to WDV.Year3@oasiswoodview.org). Your story must have a clear beginning, middle and ending. Try and include some similes in your writing:

Example:

The moon was as white and round as a saucer of milk.

Whatever had left these footprints behind must have been as big as a house.

The sand stretched out before me, as smooth and warm as a comfortable blanket.
