Journal Writing:

This week for your journal writing activity, I would like you to think carefully about a very special person...

I would like you to describe 3 interesting, exciting or strange things about yourself. Don't just list them, make sure that you write in detail about them, write two or three correctly punctuated sentences for each idea.

Ideas:

A special talent, a new skill you have learnt during lockdown, something that you can do that nobody else in your family can, an interesting fact about your family, did your family go on a journey before you came to live in this country? Have you ever lived in another country? Maybe you can do something with your body that nobody else you know can do, maybe you can sing a song better than anybody else. There are lots of ideas you can think about.

Here's a fact about me: I make the best apple crumble in my whole family, whenever I meet up with my cousins, they make me bring an apple crumble with me because they all like it so much. Late in the summer I like to use the apples from the tree in my garden (but I must be very careful to check them for worms!).
